MY STORY

Hi, I'm Justin — I've lived what I teach.

My path to financial freedom wasn't handed to me. I know what it feels like to be overwhelmed by debt, unsure where your money goes, and too stressed to even look at your bank account. I've been there.

Through commitment, self-education, and the right mindset shifts, I achieved something I once thought was impossible: I became completely debt free, grew my net worth by 600×, and reached full financial independence.

Now I spend my time helping others do the same — not with complicated strategies, but with clarity, accountability, and a plan that actually fits your life.
